MONEY FOR SCHOOLS WANT

Consideration of Estimates by Board of Education.

COMMITTEE

Changes That Call for Increase of Appropriation.

CONDITIONS ARE DEPLORABLE

Assertion That Congress Does Not Realize Extent of Growth-Substance of Recommendations.

Congress will be asked by the board of education to appropriate next winter about $4,500,000 for the maintenance of Catholic University. Gaelic speaking, Gaelic music | the public schools during the year beand song. Admission free. CEAD FAILTE ROM- ginning July 1, 1908. The board last year asked for about $3,273,000, and Congress appropriated $2,242,000.

From a few minutes after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon until after dark the board of education wrestled with figures in the library of the Franklin School. The school system, which is growing more and more complicated every day, presented many new financial problems, and it took all of the thoughtful consideration that could be brought into play by the nine members of the board, Secretary Hine, Superintendent Chancellor and Assistant Superintendent Hughes to straighten things out.

Members in Accord.

In the course of the debate on the various items it was brought out that the whole board is in accord on the proposition to ask Congress for much more money than was requested last year. In plain terms, it was stated frequently by members that the conditions in the public schools in many respects are deplorable and disgraceful to the city of Washington, and largely for want of money. While speaking in favor of an item of $100,000 for repair of buildings, which is $30,000 more than was appropriated last year, Chairman Cox said:
"The other day I was in a school building in this city that was in such a condition that if it were the property of a private citizen it would be the reason for that citizen's appearance in court the morning after it was discovered." The largest item agreed upon was $300,000 for a new normal and model school building, to be erected on a site already purchased on Columbia lieights. Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars will also be recommended for the pur-chase of a site and the erection of a col### ored school building of the same nature. Increase in Estimates.

The increased cost of building materials and the added enrollment of the schools were given as reasons for the increased amount of the estimates this year, according to Mr. Cox. It is the opinion of the members of the board and the school officials that Congress does not realize the extent of the growth of the local schools, and that it will have to be made to realiz it if the children of the District are to have the sort of accommodations that they should have. Unless more money is made available, and quickly, it is declared, the congestion will become too great for handling, and the school authorities will have The need of an increased office force was ouched upon in the report, and provision was made for more clerks and for higher salaries. Congress will be asked to create a new $1,600 office of chief clerk to the secretary of the board, whose duties shall be to act as secretary in the secretary's absence, and to be in every way the secretary's first assistant. A $1.400 secretary to the superintendent of schools is another office to be recommended. The board also wants another messenger at headquarters. A school architect at $3,000 a year is another officer to be recommended. This, it was stated, will be in line with progressive school administration in other cities of the ## size of Washington. More Attendance Officers.

The additional attendance officers, making four, are included. Superintendent Chancellor said he thought such would be a sufficient number for the next few years. It was decided not to ask for the detail of policemen to act as truant officers. Chairman Cox announced, with reference to the portion of his report dealing with the salaries of teachers, that he and Mr. Hughes had experienced no end of trouble in working out the problem of increase ac-cording to the automatic scale devised by Congress at the last session. He, for one, he declared, was not willing to let the result stand until he had seen the September payrolls, which are delayed, and will not be ready until about the middle of the present month. Sixty new teachers are to be asked for, and there is also an item of $2,500 for additional facilities for commer-cial education in the colored schools.

When the board was considering the question of adding $6.800 to be used in enting quarters for school children to reieve congestion, Superintendent Chancello emarked that he understood not one of the new buildings that were appropriated for by Congress last winter was even so far along as the plans, and that, therefore, it looked as if money would be needed for renting.

For Modern Plumbing.

For the installation of modern plumbing n a number of the schools it was decided to recommend an appropriation of $65,000, and it was brought out that as much again will be needed next year to complete the work. Mrs. Terrell declared the sanitary condition of many of the schools is deplorable. Last year $40,000 was allowed for new olumbing.

If the board has its way the superintendent and several other school officials, including the truant officers, will have government horses and carriages in which go about from school to school and perform their duties. The board decided that time and money can be saved in that way For a teachers' institute $1,500 will be requested.
For books $75,000, an increase of $50,000, blackjack rolled out of his pocket, and will be recommended. The books in use in Policeman Anderson arrested him and the schools are declared to be old and insanitary in many instances.

More and Better Playgrounds.

More and better school playgrounds are to be asked. The board decided to request an appropriation of $4,500 for care and equipment of playgrounds, which is $3,000 more than was given last year, and for eral occasions, are to be paid for by an ap-propriation of $1,200 if the board has its It was voted to recommend that any unused balances from the appropriation for the enforcement of the compulsory education law be reappropriated and made im-mediately available for the purchase of portable schoolhouses for use wherever needed.

Completion of McKinley Building.

For the completion of the McKinley Manual Training School, according to the original plans, $125,000, in addition to the $135 -000 already available, will be recommended for appropriation, as will also $85,000 for An appropriation of $200,000 for the nurchase of a site and erection of a new school building in the fourth division will be rec ommended. About $80,000 will be requested for repairs and a gymnasium for the Central High School, and the same amount for an addition to the new Business High School. For the purchase of a site and erection of a new school in or near Cleve-land Park about $75,000 will be requested. In order to refit the Franklin School as an office building for the school officials $25,000 will be asked. Ninety-five thousand dollars

Resclutions Passed by the Meeting Before Adjournment.

SPEECHES MADE BY EXPERTS

Measures Will Be Taken to Keep Congress Stirred Up at the Coming

MEMPHIL, Tenn., October 5 .- After selecting Chicago for the meeting place next year and calling upon Congress to authorize work for a 14-foot channel from the Gulf of Mexico to the Great Lakes, the second annual convention of the Lakes to the Gulf Waterways Association adjourned sine die late today. This Leeting in the interest of the waterways was probably the most imwere delivered by men who have made a life study of the nation's rivers and harbors, and in every instance a deep-water channel from the Laif to the northern lakes was advocated.

The most notable speech was that delivered by President Roosevelt yesterday, in which he said that the 14-foot channel was a necessity, and the great question for the future will be how to secure it. Addresses of Representative Theodora Burton of Ohio, chairman of the House rivers and harbors committee, Representative Joseph E. Ransdell of Louisiana, a member of the same committee, United States Senator Newlands, a member of the Inland Waterways Association, and others were carefully listened to by a large and representative au-

Banquet at Night.

The report of the resolutions committee was received and adopted without a dissenting vote, and the convention adjourned. At night a banquet and smoker was tendered

The resolutions were as follows: "Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that the deepening of the water-ways from the lakes to the gulf is a public necess ty, and that it is a national and im-perative duty to take definite and immediate action to deepen said waterways to a depth of fourteen feet from the lakes to the Guif of Mexico, through the route al-ready selected by the army engineers, with all practical speed.

Thanked the President.

"Be it further resolved, That we respectfully ask that said work be constructed according to the continuing contract system." Other resolutions express the thanks of the association to the President of the United States for "his forceful and masterly address" and for the honor conferred by his presence; also thanking "our colaborers n the great work of inland waterways improvements for their valuable ass stance," and authorizing the president of the assoclation to appoint a committee of fifty, of which he is to be the chairman, to present the resolutions to the next session of Congress and urge favorable action thereon.

Gov. Bianchard's Address. Among the speeches delivered after the banquet was one of Gov. Blanchard, who said: The demand of the times now is for the restoration of the union of the Great Lakes with the gulf. The first and most important link of the chain-the Chicago drainage canal-has been forged. All that now remains to be done is for the government of the United States to take held of the Illinois and Mississippi rivers and deepen those waterways to a permanent channel of fourteen feet to the The demand for this channel grows out of the necessities of the country. We have the things and products and commodities to move and the money to pay the expense, but cannot get the rolling stock to move them nor would there be a sufficiency of rallway lines and trackage if the rolling stock could be had.

The railway must be supplemented by the waterway. There is enough of freight tonnage and movement of commerce to keep both busy. There will be between them less of rivalry than of joint endeavor, less of competition than of co-

The lakes-to-the-gulf ship canal is a great enterprise of national scope and sig-nificance. The Mississippi valley is united in its support. You may be sure Congress will respond and that Chicago, St. Louis and Memphis, like New Orleans, will be ports where ocean-going vessels will moor. Gov. Hoch's Remarks.

Gov. Hoch, in speaking of the waterway

The problem of transportation is, indeed, a pressing problem, but it is vastly more than this. To the student of the problem it looms into tremendous future importance. The wisdom of the convention and the value of the waterway it is designed to promote is not to be judged so much by present needs as by future necessities. I cannot agree with those who believe that its chief significance is the solution of the rate problem, for I believe that that problem will have been satisfactorily settled long before this waterway be constructed. The transportation question is comparatively a new question, at least in its governmental significance. It is a contribution from the marvelous development of our country during the past half century. Let no one get excited at the change of governmental attitude toward common car-riers. It means no harm to legitimate transportation companies. It means only the elimination of the infamous rebate, the flagrant discriminations against which the people have made just complaint, the excessive charges which cupidity has exacted and the over-capitalization which has been the basis of all this nefarious business. But surely all this will be ac-complished before the great project which o promote is realized.

It seems a plain proposition that we should avail ourselves of every facility the Almighty has afforded us, to supplant the unadequate facilities furnished by the railroads to do the business of this country.

I believe the time is coming, and that it is not remote either, when a greater New York will rear itself on the Pacific and another on the gulf when there will be established an equilibrium of population and commerce. To serve all these people and handle all this business will tax to the utmost all our energies. We will need not only all the railroad facilities we can get, but we will need to improve every possible water facility to meet the situa-

This is not a sectional question; it is a national question. Our inland waters are as important to the nation relatively as are the oceans which wash our shores. Let all our countrymen from Maine to Cali-fornia and from the lakes to the gulf view this question from a high, patriotic, na-tional standpoint. Let our Congress look beyond present need and into future ne-cessities. Let the broad, patriotic policy toward this project already assumed by President Roosevelt permeate and actuate the whole country.

PRINCIPALLY SOUND. Row on Pennsylvania Avenue, But

No Arrests Made. The sound of distress whistles on Pennsylvania avenue northwest between 9th and 10th streets at 11:30 o'clock last night caused a crowd of perhaps 200 men to assemble. A man about thirty years of age, whose name was not disclosed, was strugis attending the fourth blennial convention gling to release himself, it is said, from disorderly in a Chinese restaurant near R. Gordon et ux. to Homer A. A. Smith, other two individuals referred to claimed he was a private policeman, and his companion, it is said, declared he was "assisting an officer." As the three neared the corner of 10th street the man who was in custody made a determined effort to re ease himself, and a number of persons in the crowd annexed 78, square 157; $10. The captors had arisen with the prisoner and the crowd was again closing in on them when Bicycle Policeman Holmes of the first precinct station came dashing up on his whee. Quickly dismounting and tossing the bicycle aside, the plucky policeman bored his way through the crowd and demanded to know by what right the man was being conveyed to the station house. His captors declared he had caused a disthey were going to charge him with dis-orderly conduct. Holmes lost no time in ordering them to release the prisoner, un-much to the fore, has, after years of earnest re-search, published a book which, to the deaf, is of especial interest, for in its pages is described the history of the discovery of the cause of deafness and a method by means of which sufferers in their own homes may have their hearing completely re-stored.

Deafness is the inability to bear sounds, caused by inflammation of certain inner portions of the ear, and is not, as is generally supposed, the result of the bursting of the drum of the ear. Deafness may result from slight sold in the head, and, if neglected, will result in total inability to hear.
